

GOES TO SEATTLE.

Rev. John O. Rust Will Leave
Nashville Tenn.

Rev. Dr. John O. Rust, the most distinguished minister Hopkinsville has ever turned out, has accepted a call to the pastoral charge of a large Baptist church at Seattle, Wash., that comes in the nature of a decided promotion in his ministerial work. Dr. Rust was reared in this city and entered the ministry about fifteen years ago. For awhile he was located at Bardstons, Ky., but for the last seven years has been at Nashville. He recently went to Seattle to look into the matter of moving to that city. Since returning, he has formally accepted the call to the Western field.

CINCINNATI FESTIVAL.

Incident in the Life of Marco Polo to be Commemorated.

Cincinnati, July—A poetic incident in the life of Marco Polo, the great Venetian traveler and adventurer, serves as the frame work of a gorgeous Spectacle, which will transfer the historic canal at Cincinnati, into a semblance of the famed lagoons on the Adriatic, during the Fall Festival next September. The scene will be laid on the celebrated Piazzetta of the St. Mark's, where the white doves feed at will from the hand of the passer by, and the most gorgeous panorama in Christendom will be reproduced with absolute fidelity of detail.

There will be the basilica of St. Mark's, flashing like a jeweled diadem, the slender campanile, the wonderful palace of the Doges' the Bridge of Sighs, and the Rialto Bridge; in short, all the environments of stately Italian life during the middle ages, will be faithfully represented. The Square of St. Mark's is a wonder place in the world. Over the church door, is the group of bronze horses, that once graced the triumphal arch of Trajan, Roman Emperor, and desolator of Jerusalem. On tall columns, the Lion of St. Mark, emblem of the Republic of Venice, and a statue of St. Theodore the Martyr, keep watch over the remains of former glory. Curiously wrought sockets, hold the crimson and gold standards of the Republic, while the flags of conquered lands decorate the Piazzetta. On this gorgeous scene the representatives of the great nations, will assemble to assist Venice in honoring the greatest of her famous sons, Marco Polo.

Flower wreathed gondolas will bear the guests to the feasts, through a myriad of floating lights. A superb ballet forms part of the spectacle, which has been mounted with artistic fidelity, absolutely without thought of cost, by celebrated theatrical managers, under the direct supervision of the artist who designed the spectacle. In addition to this magnificent production there will be the Industrial Exposition, Innes' and Sousa's bands and high class entertainments in "The Park." There will also be a gorgeous night pageant.

HEATON DAY.

Big Crowd at Cerulean Springs
Last Saturday.

Probably five hundred persons responded to the invitations sent out by former hotel clerk Park A. Heaton, to attend his reunion Saturday. Several prominent speakers had been invited, among them Congressmen Ollie James and A. O. Stanley and Hon. Jas. B.
Garnett, but all of these were kept away from one cause or another and only short informal talks were made by some of Mr. Heaton's friends who happened to be present. Mr. Heaton now lives in New Orleans. He was clerk at Cerulean about 20 years ago, until 1885, and this is his first return visit. He met many of his old friends, and the sons and daughters of many of them also joined in the welcome extended to him.

Mr. Heaton is still a handsome and well preserved widower in the early forties.

The speaking part of his reunion was presided over by Col. W. R. Howell, who pleasantly referred to Mr. Heaton's return after so many years and introduced the host of the day. He made an eloquent and appropriate speech, complimenting the ladies in a beautiful tribute, and feelingly expressing his high appreciation of the honor shown him by the large gathering.

Among the "old timers" present, a friend of Mr. Heaton back in the early eighties, was Mr. Geo. W. Gibson, of Dallas, Texas, who, accompanied by his accomplished wife, is a guest at the hotel this week. With Will Wilgus, Park Heaton and Geo. Gibson on hand, only Jim Wahl, now of New Orleans, was needed to reorganize a well remembered quartette of society experts and heart smashers of twenty odd years ago.

In addition to the usual feast of fried chicken and other good things prepared by Landlord Pool, there was a barbecue and dance to be enjoyed in the grove back of the hotel.

At night there was a further program of entertainment, consisting of a display of fireworks followed by a ball in the hotel.

The largest crowd of the season enjoyed the entire round of festivities.
The hotel is now crowded to its full capacity with guests and the season is at its height. The water was never better and Cerulean is enjoying the most successful season in its history.

he had previously served five years in the pen, his former sentence was H. B. McChesney's dry goods store at Trenton, was given four years. Another

Presbyterian Church.

Rev. B. M. Shive, of Campbellsville,
